Dear Elizabeth,

Good news regarding changes to limit, further, human exposure to lead.

On SBS TV today, the regular PBS news hour program on the US office of the EPA proposing changes to how communities test for lead in the water. This is the first change in 30 years.

These changes, that have been proposed, are because of the Flint, Michigan trouble. Some of the changes include the water testing of water to schools and day care centres.

Enclosed is my latest collection of items to do with lead.

Regards,

Anonymous Mt Isa Resident
